DETAILED ACTION

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese reference 2001-20311 in view of Japanese reference 11-21939.

It would have been obvious to substitute thicker plates for corners 21 in 20311 in view of the teaching in 21939 (figures 2 and 5).

Regarding claim 2, 20311 welds his pieces together.

Regarding claims 3, 4 and 5, it would have been obvious to connect the plates to the thicker corners in any of the positions claimed in view of the teaching in 21939 (figures 2, 5 and 11).

Claims 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese reference 2001-20311 in view of Japanese reference 11-21939 as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Ball.

It would have been obvious to substitute a front boss comprising a mounting plate for the front boss comprising a mounting plate for the front boss in 20311 in view of the teaching in Ball (figure 16).

Regarding claim 6, the method of forming the structure is given no patentability in an apparatus claim.

Regarding claim 7, the thickness of the boss plate would have been an obvious matter of design and/or choice dependent upon the expected load forces.

Applicants' arguments have been carefully considered but are directed to amendments treated in the above rejections.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
